One eye, a whole lot of heart

قطة صغيرة تبحث عن بيت محب

She doesn't belong on the street.

We found her outside, the runt of her litter, with one eye badly infected. We trapped her and took her straight to the vet.

The eye had been lost in a fight, so she had surgery to close it. She's recovering now, and needs a kind soul to take her home.

One-eyed cats live full, playful, normal lives. Gender not yet confirmed, most likely a girl.
